Exhibition Participation

"PEACE"

Theme-Exhibition in Vienna
100 years after WW1
During Austria's chairmanship at the EU

There they are again:

Social tensions, political fires and conflicts, terror, rearmament, signs of a cold war, and the danger of and real military conflicts.

Representatives of the young generation are vigilant - and call for the sensitization of society and politics for the complex subject peace.

From Vienna, Austria, and from numerous countries of the world significant young artists recall the unconditional importance of peace and actively engage with their artistic work for democracy and peace-promoting measures in order to stimulate dialogue for peace in this open regional and international artistic context.

Artistic Positionen are:

- positions on the subject matter PEACE
(positions on the complex, often connected areas of inner peace, peace among two and more people, social or political peace as well as peace among human beings/nature)
- flatworks (painting, graphic art, photography, digitals, mixed media etc. etc.)
- young art (age limit 40)
